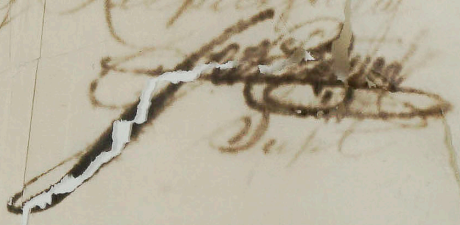
March 6th 5

Sir.

Will you be kind enough to return to this Mint the duplicate bill (No. 511) of W. V. Davis, transmitted with my February Ordinary % for his receipt.

Very Respectfully



Supt

Hon. H. R. Linderman
Director of the Mint

Mar. 9th 5

Sir.

My object in transmitting the duplicate bill of M. V. Davis to your Office with my Ordinary a/c. for February was that he should receipt both it and the original, as stated in my letter of the 3rd inst.

As no receipt has been made upon it, supposing you have not understood the reason for sending it, I return it herewith for that purpose. Please complete it and return.

Very Respectfully Yours

March 9th 5

Sir.

Replying to that portion of yours of yesterday instructing me to notify you on the accumulation of Subsidiary Coin to the amount of $2[illegible]0.000, I have to inform you that our vaults are already crowded with Coin to such an extent as to make the early removal of it extremely desirable. We have in Trade Dollars about ——— $71.000
Subsidiary Coin ——— 191.000
Total $262.000
The Trade Dollars are contained for order 2.

It would suit our business much better if you would amend your instructions by authorizing the transfer of Subsidiary Coin in lots of $100.000 (or such Sum &c.) from the Bullion Fund

Fund to the Treasury proper.

There is due the Assay Office on an old a/c. the sum of $19.000. Subs.y Silver Coin which will be transmitted tomorrow.

We have need to keep on hand to pay freight bills, profits, and to meet annual wastage & loss on sweeps a fair balance, so that in transferring Coin to the Sub Treasuries &c. we must do it with a due regard for these a/cs.

I would suggest that you order the transfer from the Bullion Fund of the Mint at once say $100.000 in Half Dollars. This will give us room to store such Coin as is on its way from the operative Offices, until another transfer can be completed.

Very Respectfully Yours

Yours of yesterday instructing me to Charge "Silver Profit & Loss" and Credit the "Bullion Fund" with $840.76 the loss by recoinage of Silver Coin transmitted to the Mint for recoinage on a/c of the U.S. is received, and your directions will be complied with.

You are clearly in error in stating that I have charged the losses on deposits Nos. 691. 756 & 766 in my a/c of recoinage losses, which I am confident you will discover on making an examination. These deposits were not recoined for the Treasury proper, and in my books the Treasurer U.S. was not charged with the loss $19.80. I also have to respectfully state that the loss ($16.58) on the recoinage of the Foreign Gold Coin is included in my a/c, in the Sum

In reply to my advertisement of the 6. inst I have received two proposals for 2000 pounds Zinc, and 2000 pounds Tin, for mint coinage.

From [illegible] Trotter & Co Philada

2000 lbs Malaca Tin in pigs @ 24½ cts per lb 2000 " " " " bars " 26½ " " 2000 " Lehigh Zinc @ 11 cts per lb 2000 " Ord American " " 6½ " "

From R. L. Gregory. Philadelphia

2000 lbs Lehigh Zinc @ 10 cts per lb.
2000 " Straits Tin, pigs @ 24½ cts " "

We always prefer Tin in bars for our use, and in that shape it is worth one cent per lb more than in pigs. With your approval I propose to award the Tin, in bars. to Trotter & Co. at 2.5 cts per lb. and the Zinc to Mr. Dougeray at 10 cts per lb.

The proposals are herewith enclosed.

Your letter of the 18th inst has been received.

There were several varieties of the Washington cent issued in each of the following years, 1785, 91. & 1792. We have no record of the number issued. The size were about the same as the [illegible] copper cent. All have the bust of Washington on the obverse. On some the hair is worn in the fashion of that day. On the largest number the head was surrounded by a wreath.

Referring to your letter of the 10th inst. inquiring what action had been taken to strike raised letters on the periphery of the coins by the use of the segmental collar &c, I reply, that I referred the matter to the Coiner to whom the segments and drawings had been previously referred with request to examine and report I enclose his letter of the 16th inst. giving the present status of the examination.

Mr James Swift of the Machine Shop, after examining the Belgium segments and collar, suggested certain improvements and new modes of construction, which we think will be superior to those received here. He will soon be able to exhibit the same in a completed form.

The concave punch and drawings have been received, and will be tested by the Coiner.

Gentlemen.

The metal card enclosed in your letter of the 17th inst. is so near the color and size of a silver half dollar that it might readily be passed as coin on persons not able to read, or not accustomed to coin, and comes so manifestly within the spirit of the penal laws of the United States, that persons issuing [illegible] must run the risk and take the responsibility themselves.

You will find the law on the subject in the 61st, 62d and 63d sections of the coinage act of 1873, approved Feby 12, 1873.

March 28 5

Sir

On the 19th of February last I wrote you in relation to the pr[illegible]ss made in the arrangem[illegible] of the terms of a con[illegible] with the Adams Ex-p[illegible]any for the transp[illegible]tion of minor coins &c. [illegible] that time I had a personal interview with some of the [illegible] and Officers of the Company on the object. That interview and its discussions led to the enclosed proposition from Henry Sanford by the General Superintendent. I have marked with pencil its most objectionable features and all communicated to Mr. Sanford through Mr. Thompson my objections.

Three per cent would pay well for the services required in the section asking 3½ per ct.

The provision to estimate a package containing less than $50 in value at $50, and pay at that rate, should not be entertained for a moment. They gain on the last [illegible] amounts. We frequently send [illegible] amounts from $500. to $1,000 to same address. These pay more than well. Besides our records would show that we paid for more than we sent, or sent more than we have accounted for, either way objectionable and dangerous.

As the proposition now submitted, with the corrections noted, is perhaps the best that can be obtained from that Company, I submit the subject to the proper Authorities, through you, for final action.

Please report to me the terms of final contract before close of the month, as it is understood by Mr Thompson and myself that payment for this month will be made under the new contract.

Sir

Your letter of the 11th inst. [illegible] my attention to an a[illegible] overcharge in six items in [illegible] bill for stationery of W[illegible] Murphys Sons, voucher No. 4[illegible] in my ordinary account for [illegible]bruary, 1875, was duly received.

I have delayed my reply until I could give the matter full and careful examination, and referring to the items in the order in which they are stated in your letter, I have to report.

1. That the 200 blanks specified are for the full and detailed monthly report of all our minor coinage operations required by the Secretary of the Treasury, and the price charged by Murphys for the amount of printing and ruling, and size and quality of the paper they say, and other dealers do not dispute it, is not excessive, in view of the small number required, and the changes made by two revised proofs.

2. I had the Cashiers Blotter examined by an disinterested expert, who did not know my object, and he estimated its value within a fraction of the price charged in the bill. It is a large quarto book of 580 pages, similar to those heretofore in use by our Cashier, heavy paper, extra ruled, extra printed to order, and full Russia binding, with the added expense of two extra proofs. Perhaps a book made to suit you might answer the purpose, but it is in the same style with all bank and counting house books in use in this city. Murphys say the work is really worth more money than they charged for it.

2. The 500 envelopes, printed, in the third and fifth items, 6 & 12, and the 1500 were legal and letter envelopes, of fine heavy paper, with the new Mint title printed, in script type, by your permission, which had to be made for the purpose, and which increased the price to reimburse that special expense.

other dealers do not consider the price out of the way, under the circumstances.

4. "Two reams large wrapping paper [illegible] This is royal hardware paper [illegible] inches, and 90 lbs to the rea[illegible] and the price charged is less [illegible] some other dealers ask for [illegible] I directed my messenger to make inquiry of our leading paper dealers, by sample, and $8. $6.[illegible] and $9. per ream were the lowest figures given him, Murphys price being the average.

5. There was a mistake in the number of linen envelopes charged in the bill. 500 envelopes, assorted, were delivered to the Mul[illegible], three legal and two letter size, but only 300 charged. The former number at $19. is not unreasonable.

Dealers do not always have identical prices for the same articles in the same market, and it is not unreasonable that there should be fluctuations between Washington and Philadelphia, and the actual difference in price, if any, would not well be determined unless the articles in dispute could be seen and compared to determine their character, quality, and fair market value. In this instance we are only comparing brief designations and prices, and not the things themselves.

I enjoin strict economy in purchasing for the Mint, and believe we get good articles at a fair price.

Very Respectfully

Hon. H. R. Linderman
Director of the Mint.

The silver mentioned in your letter of the 2d inst. has come to hand. and is held by the Mint Agent of Adams Express Co, until we receive further instructions from you.

The Mint is a coining institution and converts bullion into coin or bars. to the order of the depositor. But when we have done this, and paid the proceeds to the Express Agent who deposits the silver for you, the Mint has nothing further to do with it. If you want the proceeds remitted by gold draft or currency, you will have to send instructions to that effect, when the express agent will buy a gold draft with the silver dollars, and mail it to you, making a reasonable charge for that service.

I herewith return the letters of Rear Admiral Davis, received in your letter of the 8th inst. which also contained a sketch of a medal to be presented to be drafted by the Commission on the Transit of Venus.

In connection with our Engraver I examined the sketch in detail, including the legends. The Engraver has prepared a sketch of the size required and has also arranged the legends in the order, and as they should read on a medal. The design and devices of the medal are simple and appropriate. The legends are classically correct and expressive, and the size that of the Agassiz medal.

The dies can be made here if desired. The cost of the medal in gold, of the size and weight indicated in your letter, and in the sketch of our Engraver, will be from $55. to $60. in gold coin.

If the dies are to be made here, our Engraver requests that a photograph of the telescope, taken in side view, as shown in the design, should be furnished him, as he deems it important that the form of the instrument should be quite correct. If the dies are not to be made by the Engraver of the Mint, they can be made by Mr. Barber in his private capacity for about $125.

Your letter of the 14th inst, enclosing the silver 20 cent piece selected for the regular coinage of the denomination, has been received.

I agree with you that the shield reverse is the more artistic and beautiful, but "the letter of the law killeth" that design. We propose to enlarge the band "Liberty" by enlarging the shield a little, and whilst enlarging the scroll in which the letters are placed, to raise the letters instead of sinking them, as on the specimen sent to me. This raising of the letters will improve the appearance

Gentlemen,

Your letter of the 12th inst. has been received.

The dollar that was short accidentally fell out the bag and we could not tell to whom it belonged until your letter came to hand. The Adams Express Co will forward it to you.

In reference to the weight of the silver bullion, the Mint weight is correct. The ounces used by the Mint are Troy ounces. The deposit you sent properly was weighed with avoirdupois ounces. 292 Troy ounces would equal 321 lbs. avoirdupois.

The Memorandum is herewith rated.

April 16 5

Sir

Your letter of the 14th inst. in relation to the mode of taking and computing silver bars of a finenes of not less than 999 &c. has been received.

The custom at the New York Assay Office of taking and computing such bars as fine silver, viz. 1000 ozs. at 999 fine, as 1000 ozs. is a surprise to us here, and is not warranted by law or regulation. Such is not, and never has been the practice here, since my connection with this Institution.

In answer to your first question I reply, that the Mint has received occasionally from the New York Assay Office, and individual depositors, silver bars of the fineness of 999 thousandths and upwards.

2d. Question. Such bars were not rewarded and treated as fine silver but as containing a certain portion of silver, the standard weight of which was computed according to its weight and fineness; the bullion was not taken at its weight and regarded as fine silver.

You are right in supposing that if receiving such silver as fine silver would throw the loss or difference, on the Melter and Refiner account. Such action would be not only without authority, but a fraud wrong to the Government.

The Coinage Law of 1873. Section 4. settles this question. The mode of taking and computing bullion is thus stated, "From the Report of the Assayer and the weight of the bullion he shall compute the value of each deposit &c". This is clear law, and express regulation. We have always conformed to this rule.

I submitted your letter to our Melter & Refiner, Assayer and bullion clerks, and they all agree with me, and with the statements made in this letter. The law will not permit, or justify, any other course or mode of computation.

Gentlemen.

Your letter of the 16th inst. & Express was received this morning. The silver bar enclosed was at once delivered to the Agent of Adams Express located in the Mint building, who will deposit it for you, under your rules. if you so desire.

The Mint receives deposits of bullion for coinage or bars, but never makes returns in currency. If you want the proceeds sold for currency, you will have to so instruct the Express Agent.

Under the law, as it now stands, we cannot make returns for silver bullion except in silver bars or trade 'dollars, as you will see by the enclosed circulars.

The mark on your bar "[illegible]" is its value in silver, as estimated by the party who so stamped it. We assure in its exact value, however, by melting and assaying it ourselves, and account to your Agent accordingly.

April 20 6

Sir

Your letter of the 16th inst. in relation to the amount of [illegible] subsidiary coinage for the one half of the present month (April) and asking "what coinage of silver can be depended upon up to the close of the fiscal year," has been received.

In reply I would state that the coinage of silver coin for the first half of April was not as large as expected, or equal to our capacity, because we had a limited supply of silver bullion early in the month, and secondly, the order to melt the bullion received from Drexel Morgan & Co. promptly, and without the usual delay, necessitated the use of the silver ingots furnaces, and this, as you properly state, reduced the coinage. no ingots were made, and consequently coinage suspended. We have now returned to our regular mode of melting and expect to increase the coinage.

2 As to the future, I have ordered a partition to be put up in the Bullion Melting Room so that we will be able to use one half of that room, and two or four more furnaces, for making silver ingots. The room will be ready for operations in a few days. With this increase of furnaces, and without any increase in our force, but by a judicious arrangement of melters and helpers in the Gold and Silver Melting room, and the Copper melting room, we will be able under ordinary circumstances, (with two additional furnaces) to deliver to the Coiner 60,000 to 100,000 ozs daily, (and more with more furnaces) and thus, in the opinion of the Melter and Refiner and Coiner, will be able to coin per month from $1,000,000. to $1:500,000 silver subsidiary coin, in the denominations and proportions indicated in your letter. At least we will use every proper effort to accomplish this result. The effect of the suspension of the silver ingot melting has just ended, and unless something occurs now not now anticipated we will make a good exhibit for the future, and produce nearly the number of pieces named.

Our force will not justify a promise to produce the full amount

It is sometimes said that in 1853 and 4. more pieces were made in a month than named in your letter. More pieces were made in November and December 1853. and January 1854. say about 8.000.000. the annual monthly average being from 3 to 3½ million pieces. But during these months and the year 1854, the Department ran double sets of hands, making 20 hours work in the 24. 10 hours per day then; 8 hours now. The employees then about equal to the number now. 240. being equivalent then, at 20 hours. to 600. or 360 more than our present force. I desire to avoid any needless increase in our number. and all overtime so for as practicable, and will, with the aid of the operative officers, endeavor to meet the wants of the Government.

There is another matter to be considered, and which is begining to effect our work here. I mean the supply and quality of our coal. We are now compelled to use such coal as we can procure, the quality greatly inferior to what we require, and causing delay in melting and generally retarding our operations. I fear if the strike in the coal regions continues, we will be compelled to suspend operations, as we may not be able to procure a sufficient supply of coal for Minting purposes. We can do more with good coal, bad coal hinders as now, and may prevent our coining the amount desired.

We hope on the basis of these statements and calculations, to furnish silver subsidiary coin from $2000000 to $2500.000 in the proportion and denominations named in your letter, "to the end of the present fiscal year."

Very Respectfully

April 21st 5

Sir.

To reply to yours of yesterday inquiring for the [illegible] 87.51 transferred from the Assay Office, New York to this Mint, I have to inform you that such a lot of bullion was received but as we prefer to make assays from bullion received, there is necessarily some delay in reporting it. There is also a lot in my hands from San Francisco which as soon as it can be assayed will be duly reported in your Transcripts. The large lot of Silver purchased from J. S. Morgan & Co. has kept our assayers busy, and other bullion for your a/c. will be taken up as soon as possible.

In reply to your circular letter of the 20th inst. I have to [illegible] that this institution [illegible] received any "furniture [illegible] fixtures" from or through the [illegible]ice of the Supervising [illegible]ct, nor have I ever [illegible] been called upon for a [illegible]t on this subject. The furniture of the Mint is very plain, and but little of it. Most of it is old, and has been here many years. It would be impossible for me to give either the date of purchase, or cost, except perhaps some articles bought within the last half dozen years. Such furniture and fixtures as are not made by our own carpenter, are bought in this market, and paid for out of the annual appropriations of this Mint for incidental and contingent expenses.

Dear Sir

The standard weight should have been 374,985.63 ounces.

That is the weight in the pressed copy of the letter sent you as we have it on our book.

The error is in the reading of the letter which may have been somewhat blurred in copying

The calculator said the fineness .997 was only the average fineness and not intended to be strictly accurate. Only a close approximation. The calculation of the standard weight was made on the weight after melting & fineness reported by the assayer & not on the assumed average.

I duly received your letter of the 23d inst. notifying me that you had requested the Secretary of the Treasury to cause the sum of $3.000.000, in subsidiary silver coin, to be transferred from the Sub-Treasury Vault of this Mint to the Treasurer of the United States.

I learn this morning that the Adams Express Company refused to take more than $100.000 to $200.000 of this coin at one time, they not having the facilities to safely do so. I have to request therefore, that you will apply to the Secretary to have two drafts instead of one, made out for the sum named in your letter, of equal amounts, or in the proportion of two to one, as may be most convenient, and that no transfer draft for subsidiary silver coins be issued hereafter for a large sum than $200,000.

Your letters in reference to Mecklenburg medals, were received this morning.

Mr Baker thinks he can have the dies ready by Saturday next, May 1. The design is a good one, and significant. His cost for silver medals, including everything, will be 60 cts a piece, for 1000, as indicated, payable in silver coin. For each medal, without bronzing, each 10 cts currency, for 500, the number named in your letter. For copper bronzed each 15 cts currency, for same number.

The estimates are low made so by reason of their centennial character.

I herein send you three counterfeit 5 cent nickel pieces, found in the coins of that denomination deposited for redemption. They were found yesterday and shown me this morning. The deposit in which they were found came from New York City, principally from that made by the N. Y. Ri Baking Co. Three of the number inclosed bear date 1876 on two of them eleven stars, and on the other 13 stars. You will see on examination that one of the pieces with eleven stars has the reverse like a medal, that is when turned vertically the reverse is up side down, the other piece of 11 stars turns like the genuine coin. The edges of the counterfeits are square, the edge of the genuine slightly rounded. On the obverse of the genuine the feather end and the head or dart of the arrow as they emerge from the shield form an acute angle ⊱; in the counterfeits they are spread about the 1/32 of an inch, thus ⊱ The other counterfeit has 13 stars, with the same marks as above described. These counterfeits are well calculated to deceive, and are dangerous. The supposition is that they are made in Birmingham or Manchester and sent here to parties engaged in this traffic. Would it not be well to hand these to Mr. Elmer, Washburn, Chief of the Secret Service, for examination and enquiry. Some parties in New York are doing a large business either in making or circulating these counterfeits. They should be looked after sharply and promptly.

I enclose copy of a letter from Mr Du Bois on the same subject, suggesting other differences between the counterfeit and genuine.

During your late visit here I had some conversation with you on the subject of vault room for the Mint and U. S. Sub Treasury of this City. We are so deficient in vault room in this institution that we have great trouble to deposit our bullion and coin! and if the coinage of subsidiary silver coin continues the trouble will be greatly increased. The vaults of the Sub Treasury here and in other cities, are barely sufficient for the ordinary and daily business of their depositories. To meet in some degree this want of vault room, it -has been suggested, and was part of our conversation, that one or more vaults in the Guarantee Trust and Safe Deposit Co. building in this city, be rented by the Government for the use of the U.S. Sub Treasury here for the storage of the Subsidiary Silver Coinage now being coined in this Mint. During the annual assay yourself and Mr. Roy. Comptroller of the Treasury, visited the Guarantee Trust building, and examined its vaults. You were satisfied, after such examination, that they were equal, if not superior for safety and security in every particular to any vault in this or any other country. And this is certainly true. I have recently corresponded with the President of the Company on this subject. To ascertain size, rents &c. I enclose a copy of this letter as to size and capacity of vaults. Each vault is capable of storing from 5 to 8 millions of dollars subsidiary coins, and their employment (one or two) would afford the room necessary, and relieve all of the responsibility of the pressure that must come upon them. Either of the vaults can be rented now for a sum not exceeding $5000, or $6000. per annum, and the entire control transferred to the Asst Treasurer. The price asked is not excessive considering the character of the buildings, the superior size, quality and cost of the vaults. There cannot be any legal objections to their use as part of the Asst Treasury of the United States in this city.

I earnestly commend this subject to your favorable consideration, and that of the Secretary of the Treasury; and hope that the vaults may be secured at once for the purpose ~~intended~~ indicated. Such action would be true economy and wise policy.

Your letter of the 7th inst. states that the word "Mecklenburg" was spelled Mechlenburgh on the specimen of the medal sent to you a few days ago, and asking as to the authority of such spelling &c. has been received.

As the devices and legends had been sent to Mr. Barber, I had no knowledge of their details until Mr. Barber brought to me about the 20th of April a drafts of the medal on paper, obverse and reverse, of the size proposed, with the legends, devices &c. which I forwarded to you for your examination. This was returned in your letter of April 24th 1875. with your approval. In same note you corrected the date on reverse, changing 1774 to 1775.

The word Mecklenburg in that draft was spelled Mechlenburgh. and in the note returning it written by yourself, the word was spelled with a final h. burgh. The error commenced with Mr Barber, and he says that finding his draft approved, and the word spelled in your note with a final h. he thought it all right. It was an unintentional error, but I directed at once its correction. Mr. Barber prepared a new reverse die with Mecklenburg correctly spelled.

The metals prepared will not be sent, and we will send the full number thus corrected. to day by Express to Hon. William Johnston, Charlotte. N. C. as directed.

Your note of the 6th inst has been received.

When we clear up a little confusion between the mask and the bust we understand all you have said and quoted about "Houdon's Washington."

The bust which is in the Mint cabinet was copied either from another bust, or directly from the mask taken by Houdon.

The mask never was in the Mint.

The profile of this bust was engraved for a work on medals, and was also placed on a medal of Washington. We suppose it was first photographed for such purposes, but but we have no copies.

We have this medal in bronze, price one dollar, a most beautiful medal, and more desirable than a photograph.

Sir,

The examination of the two double-eagle pieces sent by you, makes us remember that there is always something to learn. Our experts have been considerably puzzled, to know why these much-abused pieces should yet be so near the true weight. One is light 1½ grains, the other only ¾ grain. They are genuine, and are neither filled nor sweated. By a close Mint valuation they are worth $39.90. Being so spoiled as to be incapable of circulation we retain them and forward the value, by Expy. D.

It is most likely that the corrugation, which is not all over the surface, has been done by taps of a small hammer, not directly on the coin, but on some soft metal overlaying it, probably to obtain an impression.

Respectfully yours

Mr Wm Holzer - Dear Sir

112 [illegible]

Your bills against the Mints at San Francisco, and Carson City, for glass apparatus, are so high, that I do not feel warranted in sending them, without a reduction. I object chiefly to the charges for the large pipettes, and the stopcocks. For the former we paid you $3.50 each, which was a high price; now charged $4.00. The stopcocks, for which you charge $2.50 each, can be had at Bullock & Crenshaw's for $1.25. Please let me have your answer.

Sir

The present Mint Laws do not establish any fixed relative value, between our gold and silver coins. Consequently the value of the trade dollar is a shifting quantity, and can only be found in commercial reports.

The former silver dollar weighed 412½ grains at 900 fine. The trade dollar, 420, at 900. This will show you the proportion of the two. The former dollar had also no fixed commercial value; it was however a legal tender ~~of~~ for one dollar, if any one chose to pay it. The choice was to pay in gold, if specie was demanded. Since then, the value of silver has ~~greatly~~ considerably fallen.

Your letter of the 11th inst, asking thickness and diameter of the Draper medal, has been received.

The diameter will be the same as No 30, as marked on our Medal List "Prof Agassiz" equal to 1 7/8 inches.

The thickness I expect will be 3/16 inch, measuring the edge including both mouldings; but this will be regulated by the limit of gold ordered to be used.

Sir

In compliance with your request of the 12th inst. I made examination of the porcelain jars in the refinery of this Mint, but there is no name or mark on them to indicate their origin.

I have also examined the Mint correspondence without success; the two letters you particularly refer to, (one of them written by yourself) gave no clue to the name or location of the manufacturer or importer.

Prof. Booth informs me, however, that they were all ordered by himself of Messrs. Weiss & Schively, afterwards W H Shively, & Co. Front St. Philadelphia, who went out of business some years ago. He gave his last order only upon condition that they would give him the name and location of the manufacturer. In this way he got the address of C. E. & F. Arnoldi, Gotha, Saxony, which I sent you on the 6th inst.

I made inquiry on this subject, this morning, of Messrs. Powers & Weightman, of this city, who kindly loaned me for an hour, an illustrated catalogue, in German, issued by the Messrs. Arnoldi, in 1864. A copy of the title page is herewith enclosed. They are the only parties of whom Powers & Weightman procured porcelain, and other ware, for their own use, and they say it takes about a year to get an order filled. Very

May 20 5

Sir

Your letter of the 18th inst. in relation to the absence of operative officers, was received.

The 9th section of the coinage act of 1876, undoubtedly required the appointment by the Superintendent, with the consent of the officers intending to be absent, of some one to act in his place, during such absence. This however cannot be construed to mean an absence of a day or part of a day, or, as you state, less than two days, but of longer continuance.

Now although some of our operative officers are more frequently, and longer absent in business hours from their respective offices than is desirable, yet they are but seldom absent two days at a time. The present absence of the Coroner in the west he having left on Saturday the 28th inst and returned this morning being one of the exceptions. The general absence of which I report never without asking my permission. But however much I regret such absences, yet the question arises whether under existing laws any one should be appointed to act in their place during such absence exceeding two days, and such appointments be reported under the 9th section of the Coroners Act of 1878.

The Coroners Act of 1878 makes no provision for an Assistant Melter & Refiner, Assistant Coiner, or Assistant Assayer, and therefore the necessity for a special appointment in case of absence.

Now, by the Act of June 20. 1874, and the Act of March 3. 1875, making appropriations for the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Expenses for the fiscal year ending June 30. 1875, and June 30. 1876, those officers were created for this Mint, the salaries fixed, and are now, and have been for nearly a year, filled and held by parties duly appointed by the proper authorities, and in the absence of their principals, temporarily or otherwise, perform the duties of their respective offices. Special appointments, it would thus seem, have thus been superceeded by general appointments under a law which fully provides for the contingencies of the said 9th Section. so far as relates to special appointments in this Institution.

The right of an Assay Master Refiner, Assay Boiler, or Assay Assayer to act in the place of his Principal during his absence, has been always recognized here.

The law then, as I understand it, has not been disregarded. Want of attention and attendance on the part of some Operatives officers, and too much time occupied by private business, in business hours, are faults that should be remedied.

In the case of the Superintendent his Chief Clerk acts for him during his absence by express provision.

If the law is as I have stated how can special appointments be made when the law has already provided an Assistant duly and legally appointed to act in the place of the absent principal, and perform his duties, and how can it be disregarded by omitting such appointments? For example, suppose I should in the absence of the Coiner, and with his consent appoint some one connected with the Mint, other than the duly appointed Assistant, to act for him during such absence, would not such appointment be illegal and create a conflict of authority?. And if I should appoint the Assistant in such contingency, how could such appointment add to the power to act he already possesses?.

These positions are respectfully submitted for your consideration, and to vindicate myself against even a seeming disregard of the said 9th Section of the Coinage Act of 1878. If however you should differ from me, I will cheerfully comply with your directions.

Very Respectfully
Jas Pollock

May 20 5

Dear Sir,

In reply to your inquiry, The Act of 1857 provided for a cent of 72 grains. composed of 88 per cent. copper, & 12 per cent. nickel.

The act of 1864 changed the weight of the cent to 48 grs., & the composition to 95 per cent. copper, remainder tin and zinc; making a bronze alloy. No change since.

The same law provided for a two-cent piece, same composition, double weight. Discontinued by Act of 1873.

The act of 1865 provided for a three-cent piece to weigh 30 grains, with allowed deviation of 4 grains, composed of three-fourths copper, one fourth nickel. Practically we use 32 grains, 30 being too thin to strike well. No change since.

The act of 1866 provided for a five-cent piece of 5 grams, or 77⅙ grains, composed of three fourths copper, one fourth nickel (or not to exceed one-fourth.) No change since.

By the act of 1873, the silver half dollar, which had previously been 192 grains, was increased to twelve grams, or 192.9 grains. The quarter dollar and dime in proportion. All of the fineness of nine-tenths silver.

The silver five and three cent pieces continued to be struck until 1873 (inclusive) but only as specimens. They ceased in 1873.

The former silver dollar, 412½ grains, ceased to be coined, by act of 1873; and in place thereof, a trade dollar was issued, weighing 420 grains, and nine-tenths fine. It is intended only for foreign trade, and is intrinsically worth 108.8 cents in new halves, or 109.4 in old halves; but it has a variable commercial value.

Respectfully yours.

Your letter of the 21st inst, has been received.

If your Trade Dollars of 1874 are uncirculated, and as good as new, you could doubtless exchange them for an equal number of Trade Dollars of 1875, by applying to the Asst Treasurer U. S. at New York, or to the Superintendent of the New York Assay Office. This would save Expressage both ways, such exchanges are outside of our order of business.

This leads me to think that perhaps it might be well to have it placed on our list of public medals, to be manufactured and sold for the benefit of our medal fund, in silver and in bronze. Your letter of the 21st inst has been received.

I feel quite sure, both from your description and from the locality, that the mineral you speak of is nothing more than particles of iron pyrites and mica, which look a good deal like gold dust. But for your better satisfaction, you can send a sample to some private assayer of ores, as we have not time now to attend to it. Prof. Genth. of the University of Penna. or Booth & Garrett, Chant St. of this city, would make the examination, if you chose to communicate with either.

Dear Sir,

The slate, of which you send a specimen, is often found in coal, but does not necessarily indicate that coal is near by. That kind of prospecting is rather out of our line, and we suppose the only way for you to do, is to dig farther & see if you come to black stones, which when burned will go to ashes; which slates do not.

I forward to day my Bullion a/c's. and vouchers for the 1st. quarter 1875. The large amount of detail involved in settling and rendering these a/c's, together with the intervening daily work necessary to be kept up, must be my excuse for not having them in your hands at a much earlier date.

In consequence of the changes in the cost of Silver Bullion for Subsidiary Coin, I have adopted a new form of rendering these a/c's. I have made the Coin value of 803 75 ounces - $1000 - the basis of settlement, crediting the Melter & Refiner with ingots at this rate, and charging him with a temporary profit

profit between the average cost value and the Coin value of the ingots made. This profit on ingots I think adjusts to the actual gain on the Coinage for the quarter, by a cross entry to the debit of Silver Profit & Loss, for the amount overcharged and overcredited on that portion of Ingots incoined.

The Silver for Bars and Trade Dollars are each in separate statements, disconnected from the other.

Very Respectfully, Yours

So far from "interfering;" you are doing good service to the public, and obliging me as a public officer, by bringing to my notice the specimen coin mentioned in your letter of the 26th inst. & two similar coins (of 1875) have been sent to me, and are in proper hands.

Being, as you say, better executed than the counterfeits dated 1874, and weighing within ¼ grain of the right weight, they are not easily detected; but a careful inspection shows defective lettering, and some other points of non-agreement.

A change from the shield to a head on the obverse would not avoid trouble, or prevent counterfeiting, for the old rule comes in play. "What one man can do, another may do." and therefore the best security is to find out where these pieces are made, and arrest the business.

In the meantime I would request you not to detail this matter in the public press, which would have the effect of notice to the offenders, and enable them to avoid arrest.

As requested in your letter of the 29th ult I herewith encase a sketch of the "Horn-medal" with a note from Mr. Barber. The size of the medal prevents the insertion of the entire words of the Act of Congress. The Act says the medal is to be "in recognition and in commemoration of his heroic and humane exploits in rescuing men, women and children from drowning in the Detroit River." The inscription on the sketch sent omits the words "and in commemoration" also the words "and humane". Both these are redundant and and can be omitted with great propriety. If they are to be added the size of the medal must be somewhat increased and consequently the cost. The sketch sent is artistic, and fully meets the requirements of the Act of Congress. It is submitted for your approval, or modification.

The Superintendent will oblige me by enclosing this apology to Mr. Loring, of the Charlotte Br. Mint. I cannot tell how it happened, that I omitted comparing the approximate & the regular assays, & consequently reported too low in gold, by 50 ms, and correspondingly too high in silver, by 50 ms, thus confirming the correctness of his assay but paying his depositor too little, by nine dollars & 4 cts. "7.04.

I believe this is the first time I have had to make a correction of this kind after passing with a multitude of figures & calculations & even this might have been avoided.

Madam.

Your letter of the 5th inst has been recvd.

I am sorry to say that you were not rightly informed. We have melted a good many sovereigns of George III. and as that coinage began in 1816. your piece is a guinea (21 shillings) not a sovereign (20 shillings) and is therefore scarcer, but we have had plenty of these also.

A coin collector would probably give you some advance of price. as guineas of 1794 unworn, are quite scarce now.

John P. Jes. Gorges. St Paul St. Baltimore. or Col. J. Cohen St Charles St. could give you any information on the subject you may desire.

Yours truly

I have yours of the 5th S.G. returning Transcript No. 64, for correction.

You state that the Director disclaims having advised me to carry to the "Bullion Fund" coins sent from your Office for recoinage.

Permit me to enclose a copy of a letter received from the Director of the Mint, dated May 14th, covering one from the Asst. Secretary of the Treasury, and to respectfully ask your perusal.

A portion of the coin ($30.000 Gold) received from your Office was not recoined, and therefore could have no rightful place in the Recoinage &c. it would seem that the Bullion Fund is the proper place for them. Such as were recoined went into the recoinage account, the loss taken up there, and then by division, the net sum credited in the Bullion Fund subject to your Order, the loss to be made good from the Recoinage Appropriation, and to be credited to the Bullion Fund, as per instructions; letter enclosed.

Before returning you a corrected Transcript, I will be more obliged if you will see the Director or his representative and then agree upon the course I shall pursue. There are a number of deposits of Silver 3d. pieces from several Sub Treasuries; some Foreign Gold and Silver Coin, &c. all for "transfer of funds", about which I am will thank you to give definite information, that there may be no misunderstanding hereafter. Do these go to your Bullion Fund after recoinage?

Your letter of the 6th inst. enclosing letter of the 8th Asst. Post Master General, asking whether we have at the Mint a profile bust of General Zachary Taylor, has been received.

In reply, I forward to you to day by Express, three copper medals with the head of General Taylor, in profile, on each. They are copies of National medals made here, and on our general list. The profile likeness on each is good, but in my opinion the head on the large medal is the best for the purpose intended. I knew General Taylor well, saw him often, and recognize his features in all the heads now sent; the smaller one, in military dress, the truest to remarkable for beauty; the larger one the best for the postal card.

Your letter of the 7th inst asking explanation of the departure of some of the employes of the Mint before 2 o'clock P.M. on Saturday, has been received.

Their answers when received will be sent you.

Some employes do leave before

2. P.M. on Saturday. but as alleged only after the work of the day is completed. Others, having work that requires longer time remain until 2. or nearly 2 o'clock. After the work is over on Saturday it is difficult to keep the men and women in their rooms.

The inquiry in yours of yesterday regarding the charging to the Minor Coinage Profit & Loss &c. and the crediting the Coiner with the Sum of $274.94 is replied to thus—

The legal weight of a 3¢ nickel piece is 30 Grains. (Sec. 16. C/A. 73—) Then 16 pieces each weighing 30 grains make 48¢ = 480 grains to the Oz. Standard. (The Coiner is charged with total Ozs. 9928.00 @ 48¢ per Oz. = $4765.44

He coins from these, Ozs 9197.80 = $4140.— the legal value thereof being, at 48¢ = $4414.9 the difference being the deviation from the standard. ($274.94) Minor Coinage Profit & Loss is charged with this Sum and the Coiner credited, to balance his a/c.

The legal deviation on these 9197.80 ounces would be - 16 pieces per oz - 147.164 80 pieces. These at 2 grains per piece, (see 38 C/A 73) would be 294.329.60 grains or 613.19 Std. ozs. which at 48¢ per oz - $294.33, the planchets being heavy, yet within the limit allowed, by some 40 ozs. - $20 -

Sometimes there is a gain, as in the 1 and 5¢ Coinage, arising from the same cause reversed.

Sir

Your letter of the 21st inst. has been received.

The "par value in Japan" is an ambiguous expression, as it may mean the nominal value of the coin, or the commercial value; which are not always the same.

Our Trade Dollar is taken in China in preference to the Mexican dollar, because it is about 8½ grains heavier. The Imperial Mint of Japan has recently issued a Trade Dollar of the same weight as ours, 420 grains, as a rival to our Trade Dollar, in place of their old "Yen"; or dollar of 416 grains.

As they are of the same weight and fineness, I presume our Trade Dollar is taken in Japan at par with the Japanese Trade Dollar, but I have no definite information on the subject. It is possible that there may be a slight commercial difference in favor of their own coin.

June 25th 57.

Sir;

I am in receipt of a letter from the Acting Director of the Mint, covering an order from the Secretary of the Treasury, both giving me information that the Independent Treasury Offices have been instructed to transfer to this Mint all Gold dollars not needed in their respective offices for circulation. The Acting Director states that in disposing of this coin I will be governed by his instructions to me under date of May 14th last. a copy of which I forwarded to you June 7th and to which I again respectfully refer you. You will recall the fact that $29.916.58 Gold was placed to your credit in the Bullion Fund of this Mint on the 25th May, (same being received) in accordance with the Director's instructions, and that you subsequently returned my Transcript of that a/c with directions to take it from the Bullion Fund. stating that it should not have been charged therein; but at a later date you decided to let it remain.

What I desire to ask is, under recent rulings and directions, that all this and other Coin now in your Recoinage a/c may be transferred in Net sums to your 'Bullion Fund' and thus have final disposition thereof. Where we have to separate and recoin. such Coin must of necessity go through the Recoinage a/c. Pieces that are in good condition can only be properly credited in the Bullion Fund, so that it is better to credit each transfer of Coin to one and the same a/c. through the medium of the Recoinage a/c.

And may not this be done before before the Annual Settlement so that your Bullion Fund will show all these "odds and ends" of Recoinage &c under the one head, the losses by recoining remaining in the Recoinage a/c.

I await your reply by return mail and earnestly hope that it will accord with the Director's instructions.

Very Respectfully Yours

I desire to call your immediate attention to a matter connected with the receipt of the unparted bars now being received at this Mint. I know that at Carson City, and which, unless attended to without delay, will involve the Mints and Express Co. in considerable confusion. The bills of Messrs Wells Fargo & Co. for transportation of the afore said bars are rendered and payment demanded for the amount of the bars as stamped thereon by the Con. Virginia Mining Co. which sum on the first shipment was $108.789.67, while the Carson Invoice calls for $103.743.21. On the second Invoice the Con. Virg. Mining Co. stamp the bars $160.630.26; Carson assay them at $153.109.39. The third Invoice Invoice the Con. Virg. Mining Co. assay at $ 88.147.58, while Carson puts it at 84.035.56. The Express Co. have been paid for these three lots on the Mining Co's figures, but as the Government has purchased at the lower sums it would seem that some definite instruction should be sent to this Mint as to the course to be pursued.

As the Department has instructed me to charge the cost of transportation to the Silver Profit Fund, notwithstanding that a large proportion of these bars is Gold, I shall so do unless otherwise instructed. But I desire immediate instruction on the first mentioned subject.

The Assayer reports that he made examination, two days ago, of the mineral sent by you. It is a composition of limestone and sandstone, and contains a trace of silver; but is of no value.

The expense of assay, $5.00, is received.

I am obliged to add, that we are so busy with our regular work, that we cannot make any more assays of ores. Private assayers will attend to it, and I would recommend Prof. F. A. Genth of the University of Pennsylvania, West Philad^a. – also Messrs Booth & Garrett, Chant St. Philad^a.

A deposit of gold from your office, which you found to be 734 fine, proves here to be 744, by three assays. We conclude there was a want of mixing in your melt. But to prevent any surprise on your part, it seems proper to make this explanation. The difference is in your favor, and we have proved that there is no error here, in this matter.

Respectfully yours

July 17th 5

Dear Sir,

In reply to your inquiry, there is no legal valuation of silver in bullion; nor in coin, except to the extent of five dollars in a payment.

It is clearly a mistake, as well as a useless trouble, for private assayers or mailers to stamp values on their bars. Sufficient to state weight and fineness; and reckon by ounces not dollars.

Yours truly

Sir

The opportunity which you have afforded of examining a double eagle bearing the San Francisco mark, has led to some developements, and conclusions, which may well be considered important.

As to the piece itself, the Sp. gr. (17.28) proves it to be 900 fine, and therefore genuine. But its weight being 527.15 grains, shows it to be 43 cents in excess of legal value; i.e. worth $20.43.

Its diameter being right, it is of course too thick; although this is not perceptible to the touch. It is manifestly thicker at the edge than our own issue, but this is because ours are slightly bevelled, while theirs proved are always square, or flush; in which we think our coins have the advantage.

The fact that one piece has been found

11 1/7 grains heavy, proves that there may be say 39 other pieces out, equally in excess; as each strip cuts out 40 pieces.

On further inquiry, I learn from our Cashier, that the majority of San Francisco pieces are outside of the legal limits, (so far as he has tried them,) even as far as three grains heavy, or three grains light; and this in new pieces, as well as worn ones. Lately he weighed a bag of 500 ~~pieces~~ dollars, in d. eagles, for a broker here, and found them nearly all beyond the legal limit; too heavy or too light.

This is fairly attributed to the fact that they dispense with the draw-bench. But no reason can be given why the lights and heavies are not arrested by the adjusters.

In stating these facts, I simply perform a duty, and not a pleasant one.

The piece in question is returned, by Express.

Very respectfully

I have received from our Assayer a statement of experimental assays which he has made upon ten (10) of the unparted bars received here from the Consolidated Virginia Mining Company, Nevada. I enclose a copy of the statement and of the Assayers accompanying remarks. Also a copy of a communication on the subject from the Melter and Refiner, to which I invite your attention.

The result of these assays is of great importance to this institution, and calls for prompt action for our guidance and protection. The discrepancies between the assays of the Carson Mint and our own is apparent, and to avoid multitudinous meetings and assays, I concur in the Assayers suggestion, to which Prof Booth assents, that we receive the invoices at a discount on the Carson stamp of two ounces per thousand for the silver and half a thousandth for the gold. This allowance would be sufficient to protect the Melter and Refiner, until the true value of the bars can be determined by direct practical trial. I should be pleased to have your approval of this arrangement.

I also invite your attention to Prof Booth's second proposition with regard to subsequent invoices of this bullion, with a view to your approval.

As our refinery is now ready for use, and bullion is accumulating on my hands, it is very desirable that I hear from you in reply at your earliest convenience.

Sir

Your letter of the 17th inst, "inquiring whether 3,000,000 copper pieces for the Peruvian Government can be coined at this Mint, without interfering with the subsidiary silver coinage", has been received.

For the purpose of giving an intelligent answer I referred the letter to the Department Officers, and now enclose replies from Prof. Booth, Melter & Refiner, Prof. DuBois, Assayer, and Mr. Snowden, Coiner.

So far as the Melter and Refiner, and Assayer are concerned the work could be done without interfering with our regular coinage. In the boiners department the trouble would begin. The rolling, cutting, annealing and preparing the planchets require much more labor than all the other manipulation combined, and here there would be some interference with the subsidiary silver coinage. The boiner in his letter says, that as the amount required is not large it can be executed here without interfering much, if any, with the regular work. This statement is cautious, but interference to some extent cannot be avoided if the planchets are to be prepared here. In the coining room the capacity of our presses is equal to any demand

If the planchets could be furnished by the Peruvian Government, the coinage of the pieces required could be executed here.
A few years ago a large amount of copper coins were made for the Peruvian Government by Holmes, Booth & Hayden, (now the Plume & Atwood Manufacturing Co.) of Waterbury, Ct. This firm also in 1840-45 furnished this Mint with a large number of planchets for our minor coinage. Those planchets were well made, and fully equal to those prepared here. The present firm would no doubt contract at once to furnish all the planchets required, at a cost less than we could prepare them.
If this course is adopted, and

I strongly recommend it; the planchets being furnished, we can prepare them for coinage and strike the coins. The dies I presume will be furnished by the Peruvian Government.

I would call your attention to the suggestion in the letter of Prof DuBois, that this coinage could be executed at San Francisco, they have more room, and are nearer Peru than we are. In every view of the case this suggestion should be favorably considered.

Dear Sir,

In order to satisfy you, and save needless expense, I give the opinion both of the Melter & Refiner, and the Assayer, that the mineral which you suppose to contain silver, is not a silver ore at all.

The other appears to be a carbonate of iron, but has not the appearance of a nickel ore; which however must be determined by an expensive analysis, if desired. I recommend Prof. Genth, of the University of Penna., or Messrs Booth & Garrett, Chem.ts St. Phila.a

I will add, neither specimen is large enough for analysis. There should be a pound, at least.

The legend "Urbs Romae" occurs on some of the Roman coins, and this no doubt was the legend on the coin you saw. The earliest coins were cast bronze pieces, very rough, and did not begin to be made until Rome was nearly 200 years old. The date of the coin would be about 500 years before Christ, or later.

Madam.

Your letter of the 1st inst has been received.

The first U. S. silver dollar was coined in 1794. and a dollar of that date is worth about one hundred dollars, in currency. This and the dollar of 1804, are very valuable on account of their scarcity, very few of them having been struck, and coin dealers pay high prices for them on that account.

The U. S. silver dollar of 1798. is worth one dollar in silver, and no more, there being plenty of them in market.

Your letter of the 19th inst has been received.

The Mint is a manufacturing institution, and executes gold and silver coinage to order for depositors of bullion, or makes commercial bars if desired. What becomes of the bars, or coin after delivery to depositors over our counters, we do not know, except that some remains at home, some goes abroad, and some portion is used in the arts. But we have no official information on the subject, and I am therefore not able

In the temporary absence of Ex. Gov. Pollock, Superintendent of the Mint, I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt this morning, of your letter of the 23d inst. and to state in reply that the two counterfeit five cent nickels left by you on the 11th inst. assayed as follows.

One of them, a counterfeit five cent piece, was found to contain 24.9 per cent of nickel, very near the legal proportion. 25.

The other, a planchet contained 24.1 per cent of nickel. This was near enough to

to standard, but it gives evidence that the two pieces were not from the same melt, though they might have been of the same manufacture. The alloy in both cases was copper.

Whether these pieces were struck from the same dies as those forwarded to the Mint from the Department last fall, and assayed, we cannot determine, as it would require an examination and comparison of both sets of coins, which is not now in our power to make.

Your letter of the 27th inst was duly received.

The Mint always reserves the right to refuse any deposit which is, impure, for coinage or bars. A general principle which governs in this matter is the quality of the bullion, whether under or over 600 fine, and whether the fineness be made up of gold and silver, or either. If the base metal in the deposit be copper only, and generally received in, even if it be under 600 fine. Your bars appeared upon inspection to come under this ruling, and were rejected accordingly.

The bars were returned without being assayed, or otherwise diminished, as you will see by the enclosed statement from the Agent of the Adams Express Co. who had them in charge.

Sir

I have this morning received your letter of August 30th, inclosing twenty cents currency, the balance due on the medal Splanchets forwarded to you for your men.

This difference of which you complain arises from the fact that the silver dollar contains 900 in silver, being made by law much heavier and more valuable than two halves, or four quarters. The account then stands thus.

2 Dollars	$2.20
2 Halves	1.00
2 Quarters	.50
6 Dimes	.60
	$4.30

In silver
$ 4.20
Add quoted premium 10 per ct 42 currency. $ 4.62

But we have to send down to Third street, more than a mile from the Mint, to the brokers and with this currency buy silver to replace that which we sent you, to make our bullion account square, by buying so small a sum we have to pay more than the current quotations which are the brokers rates for buying, and apply only to larger sums. Your circumstances surely make us whole in metal, leaving noting for time, labor, postage &c.

These planchets were prepared from yours as a special accommodation.

from sympathy with your motives and object. It was never done before for anybody, and I trust that upon reflection, you will not be dissatisfied with the transaction as it stands.

Sir,

I herewith forward my estimates of the appropriations that will be needed for the support of this institution during the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1887, being the same as the appropriations made for the current fiscal year.

The amounts stated, however will not be equal to our wants. The very large quantity of imported bars from Nevada, to be operated on, will require much larger expenditures than usual for acids for our refinery, and other supplies; and to meet this extra demand upon us, our appropriation for incidental and Contingent expenses should be increased by about $20,000. making a total under that head of $103,000. This is the least that I can prudently ask, and do recommend that this amount be appropriated.

I must also insist that the salaries appropriated are much too low, and not properly graduated to the duties and responsibilities of the executive officers and clerks of this Mint. A sense of duty compels me to make an earnest appeal for a reasonable and deserved increase in the compensation of this class of public servants. Allow me to again call attention to the fact that under the Coinage Act of 1873, the duties and responsibilities

I earnestly recommend to you the subject of liberal grants of the Legislature of this State, which should not be less than $4,000. The talents, experience and character required for these professions, should command a pecuniary consideration at least approximating the salaries paid to gentlemen of equal grade & standing in less difficult and more elevated departments of the government, or private or public institutions. [illegible]

I earnestly recommend an increase in the salaries of the respective heads of the operative departments of this Mint. They should not be less than $4,000. The ability, experience, and character required for these positions, should command a pecuniary compensation at least approximating the salaries paid to gentlemen of equal qualifications in less difficult and onerous departments of the government or private monied institutions. I very much regret the reduction made in the salaries of my Cashier and five clerks, below the amounts fixed under the Coinage Act of 1873. The duties of the Cashier are arduous and responsible; peculiarly sold with less assistance than Similar officers are favored within other branches of the Treasury Department, and his salary should not be less than $2,800 at the very lowest, and I respectfully urge that it be increased to that amount. It ought to be $3,000. I recommend that the salary of the Chief Clerk be fixed at $2,500, to make it equal to the same position in the Mints at San Francisco and Carson City. There is no reason why it should be less. I further recommend that the salary of the Book-keeper, Deposit Clerk, and Weigh Clerk be restored to $3,200 each, that being the very moderate amount fixed under the Coinage Act of 1873; and that the two remaining Clerks be allowed $2,000 each, as fixed under that Act.

New marble columns to the front portico of the Mint are absolutely necessary. The present columns have become very much dilapidated and unsightly; and the capitals are in a dangerous condition, large portions of them having fallen from time to time, fortunately when no person was underneath. There is constant danger of serious if not fatal casualties from this cause. This danger should be averted at the earliest moment. It is believed that $15,000 will be sufficient for this purpose.

The complaint to the Secretary of the Treasure of Mr Jno E. Reynault of Richmond Va. referred to me in your letter of the 10th inst, and herewith returned to you, is readily answered.

Under the Coinage Act of 1873, and stating Secretary Sherman's circular of September 24. 1874. we exchanged new minor coins for old minor coins. But we do not exchange or redeem ~~silver three cent~~ pieces. Mr. Reynault brought some ~~silver~~ three cent pieces and wanted them redeemed or exchanged for the new silver subsidiary coin, which, of course, could not be done. He was informed that he could obtain the new silver coin in exchange for gold in sums of $100. under the law, or that he could perhaps sell them to a broker, or some private assayer, but it seems did not get a satisfactory offer.

Sir,

In reply to your inquiry of the 10th inst. I have to state, that the only item we have to offer to the next Table of Foreign Coins, is the important one of Mexican Dollars, of which we have had two large lots. They were chiefly new, and of promiscuous Mints. They maintain the same average weight as stated in the last Table (0.870 oz.) but the fineness is 902, instead of 903. The difference is not material, but it is a reduction of say ·11 cent, or one dollar in 902.

I am at a loss to know on what basis the value of silver coins is to be given, as it is now more unstable than ever. The basis in the last Table, 118 cents per ounce standard, is of course done away with.

In reply to your inquiry of the 17th inst. I have to state that on the 23d of June last there was a balance of old copper cents on hand of $27.80 The Melter & Refiner states that at the time these coins were turned over to him for melting, he was in need of copper, and found that by using care in rolling them, they could be used in the bronze coinage, and it was concluded to run them into ingots and coin them, in preference to selling and incurring a loss thereby, as well as paying a higher price for new copper. Subsequently some $68. were redeemed, but as they could not be brought into the settlement % as metal, they remained in the Redemption Fund.

Sir

Your letter of the 18th inst has been received.

As a matter of public accommodation the Mint has been in the habit of making assays of mineral specimens, for gold and silver only, when the Assayer has time to do so without interfering with his regular duties, at a charge of $5 to cover the actual cost of the assay. We are too busy now to make these assays for private parties, but your box of stones being already here, we took the trouble to examine them, without an assay, as an accommodation to you, and advise you of their real character, giving you all the value, as it has customarily the names of several responsible private assayers whom you could employ to assay your specimens if you thought proper; and named their probable charge, for your information, so that you could act advisedly

I have to inform you that in your press copy Carson invoice of the 28 Bars shipped on the 11th inst it is found that the footing of the Silver should be $49.890.39 instead of $48.890.39, unless we are misled by the imperfect character of the invoice received. Be kind enough to examine your original a/c. and report the result.

Dear Sir,

In our judgment, the rocks sent by you show no signs of silver. But if you are not satisfied with this, we recommend you to Messrs Booth & Garret, analysts, Chant St. Phila., or to Professor Genth, University of Penna., Philadelphia. We have now no time to assay ores.

Their charge is five dollars for a search for silver only; five dolls more if they search for gold. If you send this, with your order to deliver the rocks, we will hand them over, with the money.

Very truly

Upon notice from the Melter & Refiner that a supply of Nickel was wanted immediately for minor coinage, I advertised that proposals would be received up to this date, to furnish 000 lbs. A copy of the advertisement is herewith attached.

I herewith forward for your consideration and approval under the terms of the coinage Act a proposal from Mr. Joseph Wharton of the American Nickel Works, Camden, N. J. to deliver that quantity at $2.25 per pound.

Copies of the advertisement were mailed to dealers in Nickel in New York, but they have not been heard from in reply No proposal has been received except the one put in by Mr Thornton.

We received remittances yesterday and to day for minor coins to the amount of over $2,000. and the Cashier informs me that he is $20,000. in arrears on orders for minor coins.

Your letter of the 22d inst, has been received.

The Mint does not keep old coins for sale, and your remittance of fifty cents, currency, is herewith returned. Your application should be made to coin dealers.

United States copper one cent pieces were not coined in 1815. The bronze two cent piece was abolished by the Coinage Act of 1873. and none have been coined since the first of April of that year.

We are out of blanks for monthly reports of official postage stamps used, and on hand. It requires two blanks per month, one for the Department, and a duplicate to be retained here for reference.

Your letter of the 23d inst has been received.

If you send the silver you mention, to the Mint by the Adams Express we will melt and assay it, and coin it into Trade dollars for you on the terms of the enclosed circular. We do not pay in paper money, but the Express Agent (who has an office in the Mint building) can sell the dollars for currency, and remit you the proceeds, if you so instruct him.

Sir

I have received your letter of the 24th inst calling for certain minor coinage statistics before approving Joseph Wharton's proposal to furnish 5000 lbs Nickel at $3.25 per pound currency.

In reply I have to state that we have the following minor coinage materials on hand.

In the Mother Refiners hands.

Grain Nickel.	none
One cent nickel pieces	38,698. lbs
Two do bronze do	871 "

In Redemption Fund.

One cent Nickels	$3.641.82
One cent Bronze	2.381.40
Three cent Nickels	273.42
Five cent do	3.520.60

A short time since, while we had no silver to melt except what we had ourselves refined, and for which only one half the force was required, the other half was temporarily employed in melting for the bronze and nickel coinage to partially relieve the heavy pressure from the public for minor coins, but having worked up the very small amount of nickel on hand the nickel coinage has been stopped absolutely.

As we are constantly receiving large orders for minor coins from New York City I do not see why orders for minor coins from that region might not be filled by the Asst. Treasurer at New York.

out of the redeemed coins in his hands, and thus save freight both ways between New York and Philadelphia. and the same with other Asst Treasurers as evidently contemplated by law, but if the Department thinks otherwise I will, of course, comply with whatever instructions you may have to give on the subject.

In the event of the future resumption of the coinage of 3¢ and 5¢ nickels, the amount of nickel advertised for would not be in excess of our probable wants.

We received orders and remittances Saturday and today for minor coins to the amount of very nearly $4000.

The policy of resuming the coinage of 3 ¢ and 5 ¢ nickel pieces is entirely for the consideration of the Department.

[illegible]

Sir,

Replying to your letter of yesterday asking in what manner the Redemption Fund was reimbursed for the $2785 - withdrawn therefrom and transferred to the Melter & Refiner for Coining, I have to respectfully state that as soon as such transfers are made, notification is sent to the Treasurer U.S. that such sums have been withdrawn from his a/c and he is requested to draw his Transfer Order on the Minor Coinage a/c, for a like amount of money, care being taken not to invade the Minor Coinage Metal Fund. This process relieves the a/c at once of the indebtedness, and and reimburses the Treasurer U.S.

in the Sub Treasury. The plan is and has been in use since the transfers from the Redemption Fund first began, and meets the character of Accounts well, both with us and the Treasurer.

I would respectfully refer you to the Bullion a/c's of the 2d Quarter 1875, for the following entries in connection with the aforesaid transfer:-

"Copper Coin Redemption Fund

Dr/o Minor Coin Redemption Fund,

For this sum of old Coppers redeemed, withdrawn from the Red. Fund for use in Coining, $2785-."

Then-

"Minor Coinage Metal a/c. (not "Fund")

Dr/o Minor Coinage Profit & Loss"

For this quantity of old Coppers transferred from the Redemption Fund to the "Superintendents Metal a/c,- for Coining:

$2785.

Then

Then,

"Melter & Refiner's Minor Coinage Metal a/c.
Dr. Minor Coinage Metal a/c."
For old Coppers transferred to him for Coining, $2785."

When the Treasurer's Transfer Order comes and is paid, as in this case, you will find the following entry in the a/c's.

"Minor Coinage Profit & Loss
Dr. Minor Coinage."
For Transfer Order No. 2867 paid, being for Coins withdrawn from the Redemption Fund and recoined $2785. This closes the transaction.

Very Respectfully Yours

P.S. I might state that the $2785 was paid and charged in the a/c with $32,000 Nickel 1¢ pieces withdrawn during the period [illegible]
